PARENTS TEACHERS
ASSOCIATION

Introduction:

The role of education for the betterment of the society cannot be neglected. In order for the college to function effectively for the student's welfare, it is important for both teacher and parents come together. This is well achieved by the parents Teacher association (PTA). Parents, students, college, and teacher are interrelated to each other rapidly. Parents send their children to college for education. College educates students and youth. Both are interested in children's (students) progress and both are answerable to each other. So our college established Parents Teacher Association (PTA) every year. Parents Teacher Association is bridges between college and parents. They not only provide advice on the development of college, but also actively engage in and organize a variety of home, college, activities.

Objectives:

- 1) To promote connection & communication between parents & college and to establish partnership between them.
- 2) To promote the development in academic performance & the physical & mental health of children through close home college co- operation.
- 3) To develop the potential of parents & to strengthen their relationship with their children through planning & conducting a variety of developmental & recreational activities.
- 4) To help parents to better understand their children's need.
- 5) To provide a channel for both parents & the college to exchange opinion concerning college policies for promoting the development of college.
