

Department of Sociology

Sociology:

Course Outcomes:

The course outcomes are explained class and paper wise.

F.Y.B.A.

Sem. I

I. Introduction to Sociology

Sociology is one of the modern social sciences, which has a significant Role in society. This Core course is designed to know about the origin and development of the sociology as a discipline in general and development in India in particular. Every Science or Branch has its own subject matter so as Sociology, which correspond society as its subject. This course is designed to study approach, Principles, concepts, methods, and history of sociology.

II. Individual and society

Sociology has been instrumental in changing our attitude towards society Analysis. In a specialized society we are all limited as to the amount of the whole organization and culture that we can experience directly. We can hardly know the People of other areas intimately. This course is designed to study different sections of Society and the institutions and other structural elements

Sem. II

III. Introduction to Subfields of Sociology

Sociology as a subject has its own discourse however it undertakes many issues, concerns with the other social science. Gradually several branches of sociology Emerged with distinct subject matters. Student of sociology must have the knowledge of those branches to understand the scope of sociology & its wideness. With this objective this course is designed. This will also help to carry interest in the sociology as general and its subfields in particular.

IV. Indian Social Composition

Indian Sociology has focused on the wide description of Indian social Composition. As student of sociology one has to know the basic segments of Indian social structure and its various dimensions. This course mainly covers the broad segments of Indian society which are India's geographical ethnic and religious distinctiveness. This course also provides Information regarding democratic beauty of India.

S.Y.B.A.

Sem. III

V. Problems of Rural India

It is very important to focus on rural development in Country like India where a large section of population still lives in rural areas. Rural life is affected by the changes taking place at world around. A student of sociology must be aware about the changing scenario of Rural India and the contemporary Problems of rural development.

VI. Contemporary Urban Issues

Urbanization is irreversible process in all over world so as in India .The number of cities and the demographic population is increasing day by day. As the result of it several issues of planning and distribution of means are raised. So this course is design to create understanding any analytical capacity among students about urbanization, urban communities, urban planning and urban problem.

Sem. IV

VII. Population in India

This course is designed to make students understand causes and consequences of population change. Population is decisive factor which reflects in overall society: Change in fertility; Mortality; Migration. Technology affected the society. India which is second large population in the world has its own features and characteristics. This course is designed to understand the dynamics of Population.

VIII. Sociology of Development

Development is broad and critical process which makes impact on society. The development of human society has come across many stages. The outreach of any development has created many issues too. Sociology has taken development as a diverse discourse to study. This course provides a broad introduction to many development issues.

T. Y. B. A.

Sem. V

IX. Sociological Traditions

It may provide information that makes the student understand of historical socio-economic and intellectual forces of the rise of sociological theories. It also provides the students the basic knowledge of emergence of sociological thought. It makes the students to know about pioneer sociologists their theories and their contribution to sociology.

X. Introduction to Research Methodology

This course is designed to introduce Research Methodology to undergraduate students for better understand of application of social science in general and sociology in particular. It also equips the students with the procedures, tools and techniques of social research.

XI. Social Problems in India

As a nation of diversity and plural society, India has had witnessed many issues. This course is designed to identify and analyse some emerging social problems from sociological perspectives. This course also sensitizes the student about social problems of contemporary India and to discuss the remedial measures.

OR Urban Sociology

The urban Sociology is the important branch of Sociology which indulges in urban features study and urban theories. This course is designed to make the student know about urban sociology, to furnish the basic elements of the subject and to draw their attention towards increasing urbanization.

Sem. VI

XIII. Sociological Theories

This course is designed to make the students understand the basic theoretical approaches and know the theoretical contribution of prominent sociologists. It also develops the analytical faculty of the students.

XIV. Social Research Methods

This course can serve as a helping hand to students to understand primary technique and the use of social research. The course is designed in view of increasing use of computer and statistical tools in social research.

XV. Social Disorganization in Contemporary India

This is the era of L P G (Liberalization Privatization Globalization). With the rapid industrialization and modernization, Indian society is witnessing drastic change. Indian society also witnesses few unwanted changes in social Institutions. The course is designed to make students to think on causes and impact of social disorganization.

OR Urban Society in India

This course is designed to make the students critically analyze the social problems of urban India. It also makes the students to discuss impact of modernization and industrialization on Indian urban sphere.

Project Work

XII and XVI.

Society has its own problems in every field. It is through the study of sociology that the scientific study of society has been possible. The practical aspect of sociology is too of great importance in the study of social problems and in social work and social adjustment.